

Hi I am Xueying.

Six years ago, I left my hometown Beijing and got enrolled in Xiangya Medical School. As one of the eight -year program students, it is my great honor to be here in Ann Arbor the home to University of Michigan.

I enjoy my life here, especially the brushy trees and fresh air. I love to enrich my life with various hobbies. Sports and music are my favorite ones. U-M's rich athletics and music traditions attract me a lot.

In Ann Arbor, I study in Brehm Center for diabetes research. I desire to learn from and contribute to the research of diabetes mellitus in order to help more people.

I feel deeply grateful to my parents, to Xiangya and kind people who help me a lot.
